The purpose of this infocard is to provide information about the current requirements to do business or work legally in Peru.

Introduction

Citizens of European Union member states that belong to the Schengen Area do not require a visa to enter the country as tourists. They can alternatively request the migratory categories of business, student or journalist, upon arrival at the airport. Such status may be granted for up to ninety (90) calendar days, to be used either in a single visit or over several consecutive visits, during a period of six (6) months. The migratory category of business, in particular, allows the beneficiary to sign agreements.

Notwithstanding the aforementioned, the official duration of stay is granted by the Immigration Authorities upon arrival. For that reason it is recommended to check the number of days authorized by these authorities on the seal of entry stamped on your passport. Upon arrival, foreign citizens may be required by immigration authorities to submit information regarding the duration of their stay and financial means. Additionally, they have to indicate an address in Peru (for example, a hotel reservation) and they must hold a passport with a validity of at least 6 months. We recommend checking the “Business Travel” Elanbiz Infocard.

Migratory Categories for Workers

The main requisites for applying to the migratory categories of Worker and Designated Worker are listed below:

2 It should be noted that, while this visa allows the beneficiary to carry out specialized technical assistance activities, when foreign companies send personnel to provide their services in Peru, they are advised to apply for the migratory category of “Designated Worker”.

3 As long as they are single and are currently pursuing technical or college studies.

<td>Main Requisites</td>
<td>Photocopy of the original labor contract approved by the Ministry of Labor. The photocopy must be either legalized by a public notary or authenticated by immigration authorities at MIGRACIONES’s premises.&lt;br&gt;Interpol International Exchange File&lt;br&gt;Sworn statement from the legal representative of the hiring company, indicating that the person has the faculties to hire personnel, only in the event that the person signing the contract is not the General Manager.&lt;br&gt;The Tax Registry of the hiring company must indicate that it’s ACTIVE and DOMICILED. This means that it must currently engage in income-generating activities and it must have a registered address with the National Superintendence of Customs and Taxes (SUNAT).</td>

In the event that the aforementioned documents have been signed abroad, they will have to be apostilled or legalized by the respective Peruvian Consulate. These migratory categories can be requested abroad, through a Visa Application Process or, once the beneficiary enters Peruvian territory, through a Change of Migratory Category. In the first case, the applicant must grant a notarized power of attorney, so that his attorney can present the required documents to MIGRACIONES.

If the Visa Application is approved, and should it be a resident visa, you have thirty (30) days from the date of approval of the application to collect it from the Peruvian consulate. In order to do so, you will have to pay a fee of eighty (80) consular dollars, equivalent to USD 80.00. Once you have your visa, you will have 183 days to enter the country and claim your Foreign ID Card (Carné de Extranjería). Note that to do this, you will first have to request an International Exchange File from Interpol.

Concerning the Change of Migratory Category, we recommend to follow these steps:
Special Migratory Permits

There are some activities in Peru that can only be carried out by persons with a certain migratory category. However, there are also special permits that apply to specific situations. In that regard, the following are the main permits granted by MIGRACIONES:

<tr>
<td>Special Permit to Sign Contracts (Not required if you have a Migratory Category of Business)</td>
<td>Allows the beneficiary to sign documents before public and private entities in Peru. The fee for this procedure is PEN 16.00 and it can be requested online through the following link.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Special Travel Permit</td>
<td>Allows the beneficiary to leave the country for 30 calendar days, whilst in the process of applying for a Change of Migratory Category, without losing the requested category. The fee for this procedure is PEN 29.40 and it can be requested online through the following link.</td>
